

Blame it on the rain

VERSE 1

E
There won't be another party
B
Not another invitation
C#m
Come again if you want to
I'm not gonna ask you
A
I'm not gonna write a fancy note
Or take off your coat

E
I'm gonna lie here
Right in this bed
B
You'll come and I probably won't know what you said
C#m
But it's better than nothing
A
To lie all day here by myself

CHORUS

E
Because I could cry ten thousand tears
B
I could drink a hundred beers
C#m A
But I would still know how it hurts
E B C#m
To be left all by myself
A
An unread book in an old shelf
E B C#m
And I could blame it on the rain
A
It should be easy to be untrue for one more refrain
But I choose to blame it on my heart and deal with the pain

E
Not another big announcement
B
Not another quick reunion
C#m
From now on you're in command
I won't ask for your hand
A
Or reach out in hopes that you'll really understand

Blame it on the rain

E

Come or not I'll be ok

B

Because my world and yours are just a wall away

C#m

A man without words

A

Sometimes doesn't mean it's less wise

BRIDGE

E

But it'll still hurt

B

Nevermind the quilt on my bed's brand new

C#m

Break the high heel shoes if you have to

A

What would you

E

Say if I told you I don't want this to be the end

B

Let us be, me and you, once again

C#m

Send me all the letters you ripped

Every word of the script

You've been playing since the curtain went up

And let it go down

Let it be over now

I'll sit and wait for you, wait for you right here

I'll read a magazine, while you crack open a beer

E

Because I could cry ten thousand tears

B

I could drink a hundred beers

C#m

A

But I would still know how it hurts

E

B

C#m

To be left all by myself

A

An unread book in an old shelf

B

C#m

And I could blame it on the rain

A

It should be easy to be untrue for one more refrain

But I choose to blame it on my heart and deal with the pain
