

The soul of an actor

INTRO

Am
I tried to hear my instinct from afar
E
But it was a dead spirit
G
I tried to catch something it said
But when I looked my hands were red
D
And now I wonder, have I killed it?

VERSE 1

Am
Thought that was just not what I wanted
So I drove back to be hunted
E
I knew I was gonna die
And that, my friends, wasn't a lie
G
The only thing that now was beating
Was my shadow on the ground
D
And my panic while I looked around

CHORUS

Am
I'm walking down the road of heaven
E
But I'm asking who I am
G
All the deadly sins are seven
D
And I well remember some of them

VERSE 2

Am
A million minds have passed
E
Through the same head
A million bodies have laid
G
On the same bed
A thousand thoughts
Have cut the same pillow
D
And have struggled to say: "no"
To a life where they were not that low

The soul of an actor

VERSE 3

Am

And when a script gets lost

E

Easy to move on

G

It's just to write another one just like the one that's gone

And when the night erases half those lines

D

Cleans up half those mines

Leaving only those unimportant signs

CHORUS

Am

I'm walking down the road of heaven

E

But I'm asking who I am

G

All the deadly sins are seven

D

And I well remember some of them

VERSE 4

Am

In every rest there's that voice: "this isn't a break"

E

G

I'm not fighting for a win because that you can take

D

I wish I had two lives like in a dream

That way fate and I would have the same team

VERSE 5

Am

And every time you stop and hope that you are wrong

E

G

And every time you smile like you're super strong

D

And every time people check and you're like: I'm not dead

And every time there's a threat and you're like: "Go ahead"

CHORUS

Am

I'm walking down the road of heaven

E

But I'm asking who I am

G

All the deadly sins are seven

D

And I well remember some of them
